

Modal Analysis

- Determination of structural resonance frequencies
- Provision of experimental data for curve fitting and determination of damping characteristics
- Excitation via hammer or shaker
- Determination of structural properties using operational modal analysis (OMA) techniques not requiring artificial excitation

